

Free By Tapping

Food and drink

It seems freedom is connected with being able to follow oneself.

It also seems to be the case, when it comes to food and drink.

When I write "it seems" it means that it is something I until now have experienced involve all people.

Already when you have done exercise 1, you are able to find out, if something also involves you.

At page 2 you find 30 central life limiting convictions in correlation with food and drink.

At page 3 you find an understanding of our relations to food and drink.

At page 4 you find 'Instruction'. I recommend you begin with reading that.

At page 10 you find the overview of tapping/massage points and sequence.

After you have worked with the 30 life limiting convictions in correlation with food and drink, you may want to be more profound – and then you know it is possible to use 'Free by tapping' (full edition). It is mentioned after the instruction.

You may also want to go on by working with 30 life limiting convictions in correlation with one of the other possible 'fields': physical disease, sport, coaching, stress, appearance, weight, exercise, identity, job/career, management/leadership, cooperation, entrepreneur, family, couple/partnership, single life, sexuality, parent, child, loneliness, cancer, depression, PTSD, anxiety, OCD, pain/tensions, addiction and aging.

Hope you get on well with your work!

Best regards

Niels Gyldenkærne

Addiction – convictions/beliefs

Life limiting convictions/beliefs you can benefit from changing.

1. I'm convinced that, I am superior to other people.
2. I'm convinced that, my feelings/emotions are wrong.
3. I'm convinced that, I am responsible for others.
4. I'm convinced that, I am just to be sensible.
5. I'm convinced that, I am to deny myself.
6. I'm convinced that, I am a victim.
7. I'm convinced that, I am rejected by everybody.
8. I'm convinced that, the way, I have been until now, is the only way, I can be.
9. I'm convinced that, my body is getting worse and worse.
10. I'm convinced that, I am always to be at disposal.
11. I'm convinced that, others are absorbed in, what I do and do not.
12. I'm convinced that, my needs are never more important than the needs of others.
13. I'm convinced that, I am of no good at having other people in my life.
14. I'm convinced that, others want to hurt me.
15. I'm convinced that, I am forced.
16. I'm convinced that, I am to be the last.
17. I'm convinced that, I am to humiliate myself.
18. I'm convinced that, I do not want to see reality, as it is.
19. I'm convinced that, my closest are my enemies.
20. I'm convinced that, I am to press myself in order to be worthy.
21. I'm convinced that, I am not to disappoint anybody.
22. I'm convinced that, I can avoid disease alone by eating and living healthy.
23. I'm convinced that, I get disappointed.
24. I'm convinced that, I am to convince others about the entitlement of my physical needs.
25. I'm convinced that, I am to hate.
26. I'm convinced that, love is unachievable.
27. I'm convinced that, I cannot have something, when I need it.
28. I'm convinced that, others have expectations to me, I am unable to fulfill.
29. I'm convinced that, my body is wrong.
30. I'm convinced that, prejudices wipe me out.

(See 'What is life limiting convictions?' in 'Instruction')

Short instruction:

Have answers to – by tapping – or another way – in which order, it is optimal for you to work with the convictions/beliefs.

Have answer to – or sense – how strong the conviction or belief is for you, on a scale from 0-10, where 10 is a strong conviction/belief. You change the convictions/beliefs by tapping. Tap them as far as you can get down on the scale (0 is optimal).

While you tap: check how far you have gone on the scale after point 8 (tapping point). Just carry on repeating point 1-8 (tapping/massage points).

Say loud (or whisper) the conviction while you tap.

Note down what you work with – and how far you get on the scale.

Food and drink – Understanding

Food and drink – and our relation to food and drink – seems to be something very fundamental for us. Food and drink have a crucial importance to our survival from the moment, we are born. Already here the first imprinting begins.

It seems, we allow this imprinting, because we adapt to, where we are – and in the beginning of life we are very dependent on, that somebody will take care of us. When I write adapt to, it means, that the imprinting not necessarily fit with, who we are

What, we absorb from what we eat and drink, are ex nutrients, vitamins and minerals. It is different what different forms of food and drink contain – and therefore there is often spoken about eating a varied diet.

It seems all bodies are different - because of their different stories. I also seems, the body has what you can call a point of balance, which is not at the same point all the time. In the present, the body is affected by the current life situation ex if it is hot or cold, if the body physically relaxed or strained, if the body is psychologically relaxed or strained.

The balance point of the body is hit, when the body has absorbed, what it has a need of in the present – and not is to use energy for storing something unnecessary – or energy for expelling something unnecessary.

Already after having done exercise 1 in the instruction you are helped well along in relation to the following your body or hitting the point of balance, because it is/becomes so simple from moment to moment to communicate directly with your body.

The body seems to able to tell absolutely precise, what it has a need of in the present. In some cases, it will be something, you have a desire for – and you just check, if you have understood the body correct.

Something, you can have a desire for, can also be straining or harmful to the body. The body can answer to that too.

Some people use some of, what they eat and drink, to handle emotional aspects. That does not seem to be optimal for the body – but seems gradually to be able to kill it. The very first imprinting in life (the interplay with your mother – or he/she/those, who were our your adult/adults) seems to crucial to, if food and drink is used for handling emotional aspects. You can however also discover later in life, that food and drink can ease emotional pain.

It seems, you by learning to handle emotional aspects in an optimal way can escape from addiction to ex: sugar, (ice cream, chocolate, candy, cakes and cola).

It is enough just with your thoughts to focus on something in order to have precise answers from the body – also about something, you may not think, the body can know if it is ex harmful – and how harmful. Many of our industrial produced foodstuffs contain substances, we do not know. The body however seems to have or hold a sensitivity, which extend beyond it physically – and beyond, what we are conscious about.

These years many people use some kinds of dietary supplements in order to make sure, that the body gets, what it needs. The body can answer to, if there is a need of that – and which, it will be optimal to use in the present.

It seems to be possible to experience, that one day you have a yes to, if there is a need of a dietary supplement – and the next day a no. Then the body just had a need of filling up its depot. If you over a period of time have a need of using a dietary supplement, the amount can also fluctuate from day to day.

How the body absorb and expel seems to be connected to, how we think of ourselves – and by that how we feel ourselves. If we feel threatened, the body seems to react by hoarding or storing. There seems to be a strong connection between to which degree, we experience it is possible to create our own lives – and to which degree, we feel threatened.

It seems, you by increasing your ability to handle mind/emotional aspects at the same time increases the body's ability of absorbing and expelling nutrients, to juggle with the building blocks, which are at disposal – and ex also ability to handle infections. It seems to be because, the body gradually are less strained – and by that free to function optimally.

If you have some kind of intolerance to some nutrients, it seems, there is a connection to certain experiences. For most people more than 90% of what, they have experienced the first time in life, unconscious. 'Free by tapping' has made it simple to uncover connections and to create positive lasting changes.

How something is for you, I do not know. It is only you – and your body, that know, how it is for you.

Instruction

Strength about 'Free by tapping'.

A strength about 'Free by tapping' is, that you can only create positive change – or change that are in accordance with your 'core' or your 'I'.

Many people live to a high degree other people's demands and expectations - regardless of, if the demands or expectations fit with who or what they are. You are the only person in the whole world that holds exactly your story. 'Free by tapping' helps to set you free to be exactly the one, you truly are.

Strength about 'Free by tapping' is also, that you can use it totally on your own. To me it seems that the greatest gain about 'Free by tapping' is that it provides a base for being ones own authority.

That goes for when you are to relate to what is written on these pages as well.

(More about strength about 'Free by tapping' in the 'main edition' of 'Free by tapping' – mentioned at page 8.)

Tapping is simple.

(See 'How do I tap?')

Always remember:

If you experience a problem, you can just begin to tap. You will almost always at least achieve a relief or a temporary solution. Lasting solutions, you achieve, when you have understood something totally. Often you will experience, some understanding is added, while you tap.

What is life limiting convictions?

Life limiting convictions determine or create our lives. For most of us they are unconscious (formed early in life) and work as programming. The convictions release thoughts – thoughts release one or more feelings/emotions – feelings/emotions release a reaction in the body, which is the one, we end up reacting to/act based on.

It seems that just one single life limiting conviction can release 20 different feelings/emotions. By changing life limiting convictions you create fundamental change.

With 'Free by tapping' you have the possibility of creating lasting positive change.

You may not hold all 30 convictions/beliefs. They will also be more or less strong in you (may surprise). If not a life limiting conviction is totally changed, it has continued negative effect (see how they are totally changed under 'How do I tap?').

How do I get answers?

Exercise 1:

Stand up. Close your eyes. Say inside - just with your thoughts - to your body:

When you show me a yes, I would like you to tip forward – repeat some times. (After a little while, you feel, you tip a little forward. You do not need to tip very far, before you can feel it – perhaps down in your ankles or lower legs.)

Then say inside to your body:

When you show me a no, I would like you to tip backward – repeat some times. (Especially backward it does not feel nice to tip very far).

Now stand and say yes and no alternately – and feel how the body tips – depending on if you say yes or no.

Now say inside yourself: “I would like you to show me a yes or no, when I now say: “My name is xxxxx.” (say your own name) – and sense you tip forward. Then say inside yourself: “My name is yyyyy.” (say another name) – and sense you tip backward.

Subsequently you can practice by saying something else, you know is right – and wrong. This exercise for most people gives an immediate experience of how simple it is to have answers from the body.

Remark:

The way the questions are asked here is the most distinct – and the way, I recommend. You could say, it's like a statement.

You can make any agreement with your body to how it shows yes and no. If my forefinger goes upward it is a yes – and downward no. When you first learn to tip, is because I still haven't met any person, who couldn't begin with that.

Many people have heard ex: “You must follow your heart!” or “The heart is never mistaken!”

The heart, the body and your “I” seems to be one – or the same authority. The exercise, you just learned, is useful, if you have difficulties to sense the answers from your heart.

You can have precise answers to anything concerning you (not others).

When you ask a question, you ask in that present. If you have a no to something, you could choose to eat in that present, you might have a yes the next day. Probably it will just be about, what your body is in need of right there (to have its depots filled up).

If you give the body something, it has already; you will put the body at a work which is unnecessary. The body will have to use energy to expel or store.

How, exactly your body works or reacts, you can just ask it about (ask with statements).

The more precise questions, you ask – the more precise answers you get.

If you are about to eat, you can choose to ask: “I need to eat more?” It can work as a fine support in order to only eat, what the body is in need for (can be different from day to day).

If it's about a decision, you will discover, you have the same answer, no matter how many times, you ask – and when you ask (can ex be after more years).

If you ask an “uninterrupted” question, you will experience, the answer is there instantly. If you have more thoughts at the same time, the body experience it as “interruption” – and gets in doubt about, what is to be answered (see ‘Resetting’).

The ‘I’

The ‘I’ is your core – or what you truly are. Around your core you have a layer of demands and expectations that perhaps suited for the people; you grew up among – but not necessarily suit you.

The layer not only consists of imprints of – or representations of – people, you grew up among – but also part personalities, you have developed, who can be very influenced by the people, you grew up among. All in the layer interfere occasionally – and that can be very confusing.

The task seems to be to live in accordance with ourselves. It also seems the body responds more and more positively – the more we live in accordance with ourselves.

From now on you can communicate with your core or your ‘I’.

When you begin to follow your 'I', the interference still goes on. One of the great missions for 'Free by tapping' is to uncover what the layer consist of – and to make positive change (stop the interference).

'Free by tapping' is the most effective for that I know.

I experience the 'I' is both pedagogical and patient. That means, when you want to have answers from your body, that you get it – or learn it – exactly the way your 'I' consider is the best right now. That, which sometimes underlie, is the past history. If you haven't been very good at listening to your body or your 'I', the answer often comes a little reluctant in the beginning.

I sometimes compare it with a friendship. A good friend perhaps has tried many times to say something – without you have been listening. You do remember, your friend has said something many times – but not what your friend said. When you then ask your friend – when you have come to where you are ready to listen – your friend may begin with saying: "I don't think I can recall what you're talking about!" – and at the same time recalls exactly what your talking about – but will you listen now?!

When you have got started to listen, you may experience yourself as a super computer. We have opposite a computer no calculation time. The answers come instantly. That also means that there never is a situation, where you can't manage to have an answer. It seems, the body is our very best friend – and that the body needs, we are the bodys very best friend!

Resetting

We can with negative – or too many thoughts at the same time – disturb our ability to have correct answers. If you just have a little doubt about, if an answer was correct, you can just say/ask: "It was a correct answer, I had now?" If it wasn't, you will get a no – or have no answer.

There is a solution to that – in 5 points:

1. Say/ask: "I need to drink some water?"

Our muscular system works on the basis of low power – and water conducts power.

Therefore it is important, the fluid balance is ok. The body knows instantly, if it was enough water, you drank, if you had a yes to drink some water.

2. Tap (the lighter – the better) a little at the edge of your hand (little finger side).

3. Massage a little below your collarbone in a circle – up in towards the heart (direction)

4. Tap between your nose and your mouth.

5. Think alternately of the colours green and white – or combine – ex a white sheet in a green garden – or – a white horse in a green field.

In rare instances it can be necessary to repeat the 5 points.

In which order am I to work with changing the life limiting convictions?

Experience that your body has the answer to in which order it is optimal for you to change the convictions. The body can only answer yes or no. Therefore, you have to identify the answer. Just relate to that there are 30 convictions (without reading them). Say: "It is from 1-15?" – if yes – say: "It is from 1-7?" – if yes – "It is from 1-4?" – if yes – ask to them one at a time: "It is 1?" – it is 2?" etc. – until you have found it.

If you have a no to the first question, you know, you have to find the conviction among those from 16-30 (identify the same way).

How do I tap?

At the survey of TFT/EFT points you see the 8 main points (usually no more is necessary) – and a sequence.

You just tap with the end of your finger ex the forefinger. It is just a light tapping – the result is not getting better by tapping harder – the body is extremely sensitive.

It is not decisive to hit the points precisely – again because the body is so sensitive.

Remark:

The second point is a massage point (the only one). Massage in a small circle – direction: up in towards the heart.

Use your favorite hand. It is not decisive, if you tap/massage on left or right side. We have points at both sides (and at the middle).

Think of the survey with points and the sequence as a recipe. When you follow that, you'll have a fine result. At the same time, you can relate to it freely – and just tap the way, you perceive. The most important is just to tap (a big study points at that).

I recommend all to tap with their eyes closed. That sets free the brain from having to process visual impression. The best way of holding focus on, what you work with, is just to repeat saying (or whispering) – here the conviction.

The small exercise, which is called 'Brain cooperation – BC', serves to open the connection between the two halves of the brain. Humming normally lies in the right side (the creative part) and counting in the left (the logic part). The eye movement and alternately work in the two parts of the brain opens the connection.

'Brain cooperation – BC'

Is performed while tapping continuously at the BC point (point 8) - on top of the hand, one breadth of a finger above knuckles, between the continuation of the ring finger and the little finger

1. Close your eyes (skip if you tap with closed eyes)
2. Open your eyes
3. Keep the face in the same position and look down to the left (just with your eyes)
4. Look down to the right
5. Roll the eyes all the way round.
6. Roll the eyes all the way round the other way
7. Hum erratic notes
8. Count fast from one to five (loud)
9. Hum erratic notes

After point 8 you just go on with the points 1-8 (at the edge of the hand etc.) – and goes on repeating point 1-8 until you can't get any further on the 0-10 scale (see below)

Exercise 2:

Automate to tap/massage point 1-8 (often just takes 5 minutes)

The zero to ten scale

A scale from 0-10 is used in order to follow, how far you are with a change. When you tap, you gradually go downwards on the 0-10 scale – often in jumps. After point 8 can be a good place to sense or to have answer to, where you are on the scale. The most reliable is to let the body give the answer. Of course the goal is to get down to a zero. If you don't get all the way down to a zero, you just need to understand some more.

Further understanding you can get ex by finding the exact situation, where you formed your conviction. Identify by letting your body answer to ex: "It was from 0-5 years?" – if yes ex: "It was form 0-3 years?". You will find that you have stored precise exactly on month and day. After that you can find out, who you were together with and where. When you have uncovered that, you usually remember or see (inside) the situation. Tap/massage in relation to eventual reactions, you may feel in your body, when you see the situation (say loud what you focus at while you tap/massage).
(see 'What is happening when/while I tap?' and 'How can I measure my results?').
When the body answers, it does not distinguish between conscious and unconscious – it just gives you the correct answer.

Floor to ceiling eye rolling

While you tap the BC point you keep your head in the same position. You use 6-8 seconds to let your eyes roll from the floor to the ceiling as far as they can get. When the eyes are in their top position, you close them. 'Floor to ceiling' is good to end up with. It seems to contribute to "cement", where you come to.
'Floor to ceiling' can also be used autonomously to reduce stress or for a fast stress relief.

Note what you work with

Note what you work with – and how far you get on the 0-10 scale. That offers you the possibility to come back and go on with your work – where you did not reach a zero.

What is happening while/when you tap?

Probably you will experience/see an inner film or a number of 'memory pictures' (does not always happen), that helps you to see/understand the connection with – or the cause why, you at a time formed the convictions.

It seems understanding are decisive in order to have or achieve lasting solutions.

When it is possible to create change by tapping, it seems to be because, the convictions originally isn't part of being human – but just an expression of, what is experienced – often very early in life – and by that not relevant now.

To what is experienced are often stored physical reactions in the body as well. You will feel them during your work. Give them attention, when they are there (say or whisper, what you feel – and where – while you tap) until the physical reactions are not there any more (or as far as you can get down on the 0-10 scale) – and then turn back to say the conviction, you were about to work with.

Repetition

You might have to work with a conviction more times. The explanation you find in the "main edition" of 'Free by tapping'. Right now you can just choose to follow, what the body tells you.

How can I measure my results?

All our experiences are stored as 'memory pictures'. It is when we conscious or unconscious see them, the reactions occur in the body.

When you tap, you bring about, that the reactions in the body, you have known until now, occur less – far less – or do not occur at all. The 'memory pictures' just turn into pictures of the experiences, we have had throughout life – or experiences, we no longer are overwhelmed by, that turn into strength.

The body holds an intelligence that many people have difficulties to imagine. That means, that you after each and every conviction, you have worked with, can check, how much less you now strain your 'I' or your body. If you set optimal body balance to 100 %, you can have an answer to, where you are right now – and where you are after having worked with a conviction. You can have the answer with as many decimals, you like.

You can also think body balance as an expression of your ability to ex: handle infections, uptake of nutrients, vitamins and minerals, expel waste products, to juggle with the building blocks, which are present in the body and your ability to recover.

Did I complete?

You may not have solved your problem completely by working with the 30 convictions. If not it is nice to know, it is possible to succeed completely by using the 'main edition' of Free by tapping' (see below).

Remark:

When you work this way, you create lasting results. That means that you only move in one direction – forward.

Achieving your results from having worked with the 30 convictions may inspire you to go on with another possible 'field'.

Here are all the 'fields', you can choose at this moment:

physical disease, sport, coaching, stress, food/drink, appearance, weight, exercise, identity, job/career, management/leadership, cooperation, entrepreneur, family, couple/partnership, single life, sexuality, parent, child, loneliness, cancer, depression, PTSD, anxiety, OCD, pain/tensions, addiction and aging.

About the 'Full edition' of 'Free by tapping'

'Free by tapping' now holds outlines with more than 1500 different life limiting convictions and almost 300 different emotions/feelings. Besides there are outlines of different elements, that are parts of the personality and an outline with life aspects, which also contributes to understanding. You will discover it is just as easy to identify among more than 1500 – as it is to identify among 30. The 'Full version' offers you the possibility of totally to uncover your personality – and to create those positive changes, you want, completely on your own.

That is the part that handles mental/emotional aspects.

Additionally, it is possible to buy that part, that handles the physical (how you use your body) and the chemical part (what you impart to your body/supply your body with ex food and drink).

'Free by tapping' you can use for both mental/emotional and physical aspects ex disease/illness. When that is possible, it is because the mental/emotional part have far more influence to the body, than most people know (often more than 90 % of a problem).

'Free by tapping' makes it possible to handle the mental/emotional part completely on your own – and at that in such a simple way, that you can begin, when you are just 10 years old.

After short time practice it typically takes 5-6 minutes to both uncover and to make a positive change to one aspect. That makes it foreseeable – also when there is a need of changing many aspects.

'Free by tapping' has been developed in interaction with clients and has after 14 years not had to give up on anything.

And – if you have a smart phone, you can use 'Free by tapping' whenever you like – or feel the need.
